What is Time Master?

Time Master is one of the standout products offered by BizKademy, designed to help the Management track their employees' time efficiently in business settings.

Why is Time Tracking essential?

Management needs to accurately track the time employees spend on specific tasks, applications, websites, and meeting deadlines to ensure effective use of working hours.

Time Spent Vs Productive Time Spent

While time spent in the office is important, the primary focus is on productivity. For instance, being productive for 3 hours is more valuable than merely spending 10 hours in the office without achieving significant results.

How Time Master is helping HR teams in Time Tracking and Productivity Management?

Features of Time Master

Time Tracking of Employees in One Place

Allows moderators/admits to easily track the amount of time, that is spent on various tasks. Generates a report that provides insights into how time is utilized, which leads to improved efficiency.

Productivity Tracking

It generates comprehensive reports that provide insights into the productivity of individuals and teams. Moderators, or Admins, can get access to detailed breakdowns of time spent on specific tasks, or projects, allowing them to identify areas of improvement.

Filtering of websites

Time Master monitors all the applications and websites that the employees access during the day, and actively categorizes them as productive, and unproductive, which leads to employers identifying patterns in how the employees spend their time during office hours.

The software only monitors activity during designated work times, ensuring that tracking ceases after hours.

This thoughtful feature respects employees' personal time without monitoring, maintaining their privacy and enabling them to use their time freely as they wish.

Notifications

Sends alerts to the users after detecting periods of inactivity or idle time, which assists in minimizing time wasted and ensures that working hours are utilized productively.
